

Georgia Hachem is a consultant at UNESCO and the coordinator of 5-year plan at Ministry of Education and Higher Education. An accomplished education consultant and specialist with over 14 years of dedicated service within the Lebanese education sector, Georgia Hachem is a Senior Education Consultant at the Ministry of Education and Higher Education in Lebanon, advising the Director General of Education and teaching data-driven decision-making at USJ. Fluent in English, French, and Arabic, with expertise in ICT tools like SPSS, Georgia holds a PhD in Education Administrative Leadership, highlighting her commitment to enhancing the quality and accessibility of education through collaboration, effective problem-solving, and informed decision-making. Her extensive participation in international seminars and workshops underscores her dedication to global educational improvement.